IMPORTANT SAFEGUARDS

Please read the operating instructions and familiarize yourself with the equipment before placing it in service. Correct and safe use of the equipment requires strict compliance with the safety instructions.

For safety reasons persons less than 16 years of age or people that are not familiar with these instructions should not use this equipment.

To guard against injury, basic safety precautions should be observed including, but not limited to the following:

- (With UV-C Option) Do not look at an unshielded UV-C lamp. Ultra Violet light is harmful to your eyes and may cause blindness.
- (With UV-C Option) Always use a properly grounded power supply and protected with a ground fault circuit interrupter (GFCI).
- (With UV-C Option) Always unplug the filter from the power supply when not in use or before performing any maintenance on the pump.
- (With UV-C Option) Never pull the cord to disconnect the plug from the power supply. Grasp the plug and pull to disconnect.
- Do not install or store the filter where it will be exposed to extreme hot or cold temperatures.
- Keep out of reach of children or pets. This appliance should not be used by children without supervision.
- (With UV-C Option) Do not cut the cord as this will result in voiding your warranty.
- (With UV-C Option) Care should be taken to arrange the power cord so that it cannot be accidentally tripped over or pulled.
- Do not attempt to repair the filter yourself. Return to an authorized service centre or place of purchase if a fault occurs (regular maintenance is not considered repair and is required by user).

DESCRIPTION AND FEATURES

Your PondMAX pond filter has been manufactured with advanced technology to provide you with the best quality filter for your pond or waterfeature.

- A pressure indicator lets you know when the pressure in the filter increases indicating that the filter foams are getting blocked and requires cleaning .
- A large canister and high surface area bio media ensures maximum biological filtration. In normal operation the water enters the filter and is forced around the edge of the filter canister creating a vortex where larger particles are precipitated through gravity. The water then passes through the different density foam sponges, the higher density foam allows the water to pass through slower promoting colonization of Nitrosomonas bacteria and the lower density foam allows the water to pass through faster promoting colonization of Nitrobacter bacteria. The water is then passed by the Ultraviolet light which inhibits bacteria and algae growth and returns back into the pond.

ULTRA SERIES PRESSURE FILTER

- An integral backwash function back-flushes the filter and compresses the foam sponge media.
- (With UV-C Option) An Ultra Violet Clarifier incorporated into the filter helps maintain crystal clear water

INSTALLATION

1. (With UV-C Option) Have a licensed electrician install a weatherproof power point near to the pond or water feature (within the cable length of the filter).
2. Identify a suitable location for your new pressure filter. The pressure filter can be used in between a pump and a water feature or waterfall. The filter can also be partially buried to help disguise it in your garden. It is important to return the clean filtered water from your filter to the opposite end of your pond to where the pump suction is located.
3. Connect anti-kink hose or poly tubing from your pump to the inlet of the filter. Your filter has a three step hose tail to fit 1", 1-1/4", 1-1/2" diameter hose or tube. Make sure to cut off the hose tails that are smaller than the hose or tube size being used. Eg: If using 1-1/2" hose, cut off the 1" and 1-1/4" sections. Please use the largest size tubing possible. We recommend using PondMax hose clamps for a leak free connection.
4. Connect tubing from the outlet of the filter back into your pond at the opposite end to where you are pumping from. You can have the outlet of the filter running into a waterfall. You only need to connect tubing to the back-flush outlet if you require the dirty water from the backwash to be diverted to a specific location.
5. If the flow from your pump is greater than the recommended max flow, you must reduce the flow, or bypass some of the flow with a Y fitting. The pressure must not exceed 6.5 PSI or 15 feet of head.
6. (With UV-C Option) Turn your pump on and then plug in the UV-C unit on the filter, if applicable. The UV-C unit should not be turned on if there is no water flowing past the UV-C lamp.
7. You can help boost the biological function of your filter with PondMax Bacteria. Now sit back, relax and enjoy a clean and healthy pond.

MAINTENANCE

(With UV-C Option) Disconnect power cord from the power supply before performing maintenance. Never lift the filter by the power cord.

(With UV-C Option) The UV-C lamp must be checked regularly and should be replaced every 12 months.

(With UV-C Option) To visually check the lamp, look through the clear UV-C indicator on the top of the filter and if the light is working you will see a purple glow.

(With UV-C Option) The power cord cannot be replaced. If the cord is damaged, UV-C assembly must be replaced. The filter must be operational 24 hours every day for it to function effectively.

USING THE BACKWASH

1. While the filter is still functioning, connect tubing to the backwash outlet of the filter. You can divert the dirty water into a garden bed or into your drain. Turn the valve on the backwash outlet to open.
2. Now turn the backwash arrow shaped dial on the top of the filter to "clean" mode (the arrow will face towards the ball valve backwash outlet). The water from the normal outlet will now come out the backwash outlet.
3. Turn the cleaning handle anti-clockwise on the filter several times or until the water exiting the backwash outlet becomes clean. This squeezes the filter sponges and cleans them mechanically.
4. Now turn the backwash function dial on the top of the filter back to "filter" mode and close the valve on the backwash outlet.
5. Your filter has now been rinsed, now sit back and enjoy your watergarten.

FULL DISASSEMBLE AND RINSE

1. (With UV-C Option) Turn off your pump and disconnect the power cord from any electrical source. Undo the threaded inlet and outlets from the filter, unclip the lid clamp and carefully remove the lid.
2. Take care not to lose or damage the O-ring seal. Unscrew the clear locking screw at the bottom of the filter sponge layers (on the black base plate on PF2400 and PF3600 models). Undo the screw that holds the rod in place and remove the base plate.
3. Now remove the foam sponge rings from off the centre core and rinse them in dechlorinated water or pond water. Using dechlorinated water ensures the chlorine in normal tap water does not kill the beneficial bacteria living in your filter media. Be sure to thoroughly squeeze the sponges to remove sludge.
4. Remove the high efficiency bio media ring (in PF2400 and PF3600 Models only) from the bottom of the filter canister and only remove any excess sludge from the biospheres. You should not remove all of this brown matter as this is the beneficial bacteria which is essential in the breakdown of toxic waste from your pond.
5. Now clean out the canister of your filter and any debris from the lid of the filter and reassemble. First reassemble the partially cleaned bio media ring into the canister and then insert lid with the foam rings installed onto the center core. The Foam rings should alternate from Blue to Yellow.
6. Now put the lid back in place, taking care to locate the O-ring on the canister, then firmly push the lid back onto the canister. Take care to align the locking nut on bottom sponge plate with one of the holes in the biomedial ring. Fasten the lid, clamp in place and reconnect the inlet and outlet.
7. (With UV-C Option) Now plug the pump and filter in, turn on, and sit back and enjoy your watergarten.

REPLACING THE LAMP FOR UV-C OPTION

1. Turn off power supply and remove plug from power outlet. Turn off your pump.
2. Undo the 4 screws on the top of the filter holding the UV-C Assembly in place.
3. Carefully lift up the UV-C Assembly out of the filter lid. Take care not to impact the quartz sleeve on anything – it will break.
4. Undo the quartz sleeve locking collar at the top of the quartz sleeve. Take care not to lose the quartz sleeve o-ring and collar.
5. Carefully remove the quartz sleeve from the UV-C Assembly and place in a secure position.
6. You can now access the lamp to replace it. Pull out the old lamp and discard responsibly. Insert a new lamp ensuring it is connected securely.
7. Replace the quartz sleeve onto the UV-C Assembly ensuring the o ring and collar is located properly. Replace and tighten the quartz sleeve locking collar.
8. Replace the UV-C Assembly into the top of the filter ensuring it fits securely. Tighten the 4 screws fixing the Assembly into the filter lid.
9. Turn your pump back on and then reconnect power supply and turn on your filter. You have successfully replaced your UV-C lamp.

- (With UV-C Option) Do not cut the cord as this will result in voiding your warranty.
- (With UV-C Option) Care should be taken to arrange the power cord so that it cannot be accidentally tripped over or pulled.
- Do not attempt to repair the filter yourself. Return to an authorized service centre or place of purchase if a fault occurs (regular maintenance is not considered repair and is required by user).

DESCRIPTION AND FEATURES

Your PondMAX pond filter has been manufactured with advanced technology to provide you with the best quality filter for your pond or waterfeature.

- A pressure indicator lets you know when the pressure in the filter increases indicating that the filter foams are getting blocked and requires cleaning .
- A large canister and high surface area bio media ensures maximum biological filtration. In normal operation the water enters the filter and is forced around the edge of the filter canister creating a vortex where larger particles are precipitated through gravity. The water then passes through the different density foam sponges, the higher density foam allows the water to pass through slower promoting colonization of Nitrosomonas bacteria and the lower density foam allows the water to pass through faster promoting colonization of Nitrobacter bacteria. The water is then passed by the Ultraviolet light which inhibits bacteria and algae growth and returns back into the pond.

ULTRA SERIES PRESSURE FILTER

- An integral backwash function back-flushes the filter and compresses the foam sponge media.
- (With UV-C Option) An Ultra Violet Clarifier incorporated into the filter helps maintain crystal clear water

INSTALLATION

1. (With UV-C Option) Have a licensed electrician install a weatherproof power point near to the pond or water feature (within the cable length of the filter).
2. Identify a suitable location for your new pressure filter. The pressure filter can be used in between a pump and a water feature or waterfall. The filter can also be partially buried to help disguise it in your garden. It is important to return the clean filtered water from your filter to the opposite end of your pond to where the pump suction is located.
3. Connect anti-kink hose or poly tubing from your pump to the inlet of the filter. Your filter has a three step hose tail to fit 1", 1-1/4", 1-1/2" diameter hose or tube. Make sure to cut off the hose tails that are smaller than the hose or tube size being used. Eg: If using 1-1/2" hose, cut off the 1" and 1-1/4" sections. Please use the largest size tubing possible. We recommend using PondMax hose clamps for a leak free connection.
4. Connect tubing from the outlet of the filter back into your pond at the opposite end to where you are pumping from. You can have the outlet of the filter running into a waterfall. You only need to connect tubing to the back-flush outlet if you require the dirty water from the backwash to be diverted to a specific location.
5. If the flow from your pump is greater than the recommended max flow, you must reduce the flow, or bypass some of the flow with a Y fitting. The pressure must not exceed 6.5 PSI or 15 feet of head.
6. (With UV-C Option) Turn your pump on and then plug in the UV-C unit on the filter, if applicable. The UV-C unit should not be turned on if there is no water flowing past the UV-C lamp.
7. You can help boost the biological function of your filter with PondMax Bacteria. Now sit back, relax and enjoy a clean and healthy pond.

MAINTENANCE

(With UV-C Option) Disconnect power cord from the power supply before performing maintenance. Never lift the filter by the power cord.

(With UV-C Option) The UV-C lamp must be checked regularly and should be replaced every 12 months.

(With UV-C Option) To visually check the lamp, look through the clear UV-C indicator on the top of the filter and if the light is working you will see a purple glow.

(With UV-C Option) The power cord cannot be replaced. If the cord is damaged, UV-C assembly must be replaced. The filter must be operational 24 hours every day for it to function effectively.

USING THE BACKWASH

1. While the filter is still functioning, connect tubing to the backwash outlet of the filter. You can divert the dirty water into a garden bed or into your drain. Turn the valve on the backwash outlet to open.
2. Now turn the backwash arrow shaped dial on the top of the filter to "clean" mode (the arrow will face towards the ball valve backwash outlet). The water from the normal outlet will now come out the backwash outlet.
3. Turn the cleaning handle anti-clockwise on the filter several times or until the water exiting the backwash outlet becomes clean. This squeezes the filter sponges and cleans them mechanically.
4. Now turn the backwash function dial on the top of the filter back to "filter" mode and close the valve on the backwash outlet.
5. Your filter has now been rinsed, now sit back and enjoy your watergarten.

FULL DISASSEMBLE AND RINSE

1. (With UV-C Option) Turn off your pump and disconnect the power cord from any electrical source. Undo the threaded inlet and outlets from the filter, unclip the lid clamp and carefully remove the lid.
2. Take care not to lose or damage the O-ring seal. Unscrew the clear locking screw at the bottom of the filter sponge layers (on the black base plate on PF2400 and PF3600 models). Undo the screw that holds the rod in place and remove the base plate.
3. Now remove the foam sponge rings from off the centre core and rinse them in dechlorinated water or pond water. Using dechlorinated water ensures the chlorine in normal tap water does not kill the beneficial bacteria living in your filter media. Be sure to thoroughly squeeze the sponges to remove sludge.
4. Remove the high efficiency bio media ring (in PF2400 and PF3600 Models only) from the bottom of the filter canister and only remove any excess sludge from the biospheres. You should not remove all of this brown matter as this is the beneficial bacteria which is essential in the breakdown of toxic waste from your pond.
5. Now clean out the canister of your filter and any debris from the lid of the filter and reassemble. First reassemble the partially cleaned bio media ring into the canister and then insert lid with the foam rings installed onto the center core. The Foam rings should alternate from Blue to Yellow.
6. Now put the lid back in place, taking care to locate the O-ring on the canister, then firmly push the lid back onto the canister. Take care to align the locking nut on bottom sponge plate with one of the holes in the biomedial ring. Fasten the lid, clamp in place and reconnect the inlet and outlet.
7. (With UV-C Option) Now plug the pump and filter in, turn on, and sit back and enjoy your watergarten.

REPLACING THE LAMP FOR UV-C OPTION

1. Turn off power supply and remove plug from power outlet. Turn off your pump.
2. Undo the 4 screws on the top of the filter holding the UV-C Assembly in place.
3. Carefully lift up the UV-C Assembly out of the filter lid. Take care not to impact the quartz sleeve on anything – it will break.
4. Undo the quartz sleeve locking collar at the top of the quartz sleeve. Take care not to lose the quartz sleeve o-ring and collar.
5. Carefully remove the quartz sleeve from the UV-C Assembly and place in a secure position.
6. You can now access the lamp to replace it. Pull out the old lamp and discard responsibly. Insert a new lamp ensuring it is connected securely.
7. Replace the quartz sleeve onto the UV-C Assembly ensuring the o ring and collar is located properly. Replace and tighten the quartz sleeve locking collar.
8. Replace the UV-C Assembly into the top of the filter ensuring it fits securely. Tighten the 4 screws fixing the Assembly into the filter lid.
9. Turn your pump back on and then reconnect power supply and turn on your filter. You have successfully replaced your UV-C lamp.
